Charakteristik

Rift veneers with exposed heartwood (a slight transition toward crown cut) from the same flitch are slip-matched. Calm, color-consistent veneers create balanced surfaces, with the same veneer face oriented upwards to prevent visual misalignment of the panels. Distinctive veneer features repeat in the matching pattern. Color variations are emphasized due to the bonding of heartwood and sapwood sides. Depending on the proportion of heartwood and crown grain, the overall appearance can appear slightly asymmetrical. Suitable for small wall and ceiling surfaces with a calm visual aesthetic, and less suitable for large areas.
